Company Profile

WhiteHawk
Industry 40+ Employees 13+ Locations 31 Interaction Managed By A Third-Party Provider, Website, Email, Mobile, Face-to-Face

Based on the answers provided, your focus should be on protecting your company's computers and users during a wide range of transactions involving many different customers and suppliers. Your business may attract sophisticated groups of attackers, Advanced Persistent Threats or "APT", who are willing to invest a lot of time and effort in the hopes of a single large payout. The payout does not have to be financial; cyber criminals may also be targeting your intellectual property. In addition, attackers may see you as a useful stepping stone in attacking your business partners.

Your company tends toward light, informal internal rules. Because of this, you should make sure that you have appropriate plans in place to deal with cybersecurity breaches. It is important to know and understand your risks in order to take appropriate steps to mitigate them. You should set up employee training and controls on your corporate network to ensure employees are equipped with the knowledge to identify and report potential scams. In addition, developing an incident response plan will help your company respond and recover if and when it is attacked and will help to protect your reputation.

Our evaluation indicates that your current overall cybersecurity posture is poor. Your company needs to take immediate steps to close the most urgent gaps in your cybersecurity.

This profile is based on the small amount of business specific data you have provided through the questionnaire, and on broad statistics for your industry. Please contact WhiteHawk to get a more accurate, personalized evaluation.
