Multi-bay strategy delivers a record quarterly result

Angel's operations building momentum

- Another quarter of record sales with 2.7 million oysters sold, up 78% on pcp

- › Multi-bay strategy increasingly successful
- › Continued strong demand from the retail channel
- › Restaurant demand starting to pick up with COVID-19 restrictions easing in some states

- Strong sales driving revenue up 71% on pcp

- › Underlying oyster prices steady; sales mix weighting towards the bistro size sold into retail channel resulting in lower average price

- Growing conditions throughout winter in line with expectations; strong stock position

- › Spat purchases increased to invest in growth
- › Biomass* up 31% on pcp; Haslam facility accommodating the increased biomass

Angel enters the peak demand period in strong position

Focus on finishing stock for the festive season and supplying retail channel

- 22 million graded* oysters currently in stock
 - › Farming operations now focused on finishing mature stock in preparation for the peak demand period
 - › Spat purchases increased to ensure a steady supply of oysters to meet future demand and growth
- Retail channel continues to be a focus over Q2
 - › Growing recognition on Angel's ability to guarantee continuous supply of high-quality oysters
 - › Consumers becoming increasingly accustomed to purchasing oysters from their local retailer
- Working capital facility extended to provide additional liquidity
 - › Post balance date, working capital facility with NAB increased by $1 million; total liquidity at $2.7 million
 - › Allows Angel to focus on improving productivity and further invest in building scale in the business

*Does not include ungraded spat

Outlook: Well positioned for long term growth

Angel exploring several future opportunities to increase capacity and sales

Initial phase of growth completed
