Operational and financial update

In line with the Company's refocused strategy, a number of cost saving initiatives were implemented during the quarter to reduce costs and focus on strategic, profitable and sustainable growth. This was successful and as a result AppsVillage delivered a 50% reduction in expenses while maintaining growth of 23% in paying subscribers, an increase of Annualized Recurring Revenues (ARR) of 18%, and a 50% reduction of spending on customer acquisition - all vs. Q3 of 2019.

The Company delivered invoiced income of AU$264,540 for the September quarter and has a cash balance of AU$1.68million as at 30 September 2020.

Appointment of Vice President of Products appointed

Former Wix.com executive Asaf Fox, was appointed as Vice President of Products to lead the enhancement and growth of APV's app development and marketing platform, JARVIS.

Mr Fox brings 10+ years' experience in product development from a number of global leading marketing platforms. Most recently he was the Head of International Markets for promo.com, a leading multinational video marketing provider with partners including Facebook, Youtube, gettyimages and shutterstock.

Prior to this, Mr Fox was the Head of the International Product Group for Wix.com where he led the advancement of Wix's user experience, adoption rate and monetization of the offering across all international markets.

JARVIS delivers exemplary results in first three months since launch

Since its launch earlier this year, the Company's AI software and advertising management platform JARVIS has delivered results beyond expectations and is comparable with leading campaign management platforms and is akin to having a highly experienced advertising manager working in-house.

- Campaigns produced a 300% increase in new leads as "Interested Customers" via Facebook messenger vs. leads generated through a standard approach
- Cost-per-lead reduced by nearly 50% from AU$7.5 to AU$3.8, significantly beating the industry benchmark in several sectors
- As a result, small businesses increased the total number of Facebook ads by 30% in the past month alone
- In particular, small businesses in Shopping, Retail and Beauty and Cosmetics in USA, UK, Canada and Australia, showed the highest JARVIS effectiveness and doubled the number of monthly ads

To further capitalise on JARVIS, the Company expanded its offering and launched the JARVIS platform as a standalone product to non-subscribers. This came as a result of the ground-breaking successes JARVIS has delivered in its first few months of operation and is expected provide an additional revenue stream for AppsVillage.
