COVID UPDATE

The Board of Titanium Sands Limited ("TSL") would like to provide the following COVID update on its Sri Lankan heavy mineral sands project, as reported from our Sri Lankan office:

"The situation has worsened over the past few weeks with an average of 500 cases testing positive on a daily basis (up to 700 some days) and an average of 5 deaths per day. Most affected is the Western province with over 50 % of the area under lock down for most of November (including most of the prime commercial areas including our office) and government suggesting that any activity in the government offices to be restricted to bare minimum and urgent.

Last week the government decided to lift the lock down in some areas of Western province however the total positive cases sit at almost 23,000 as of today and number of deaths just over 100".

Based on the ongoing COVID situation, exploration has been delayed until the restrictions are lifted. TSL managing Director Dr James Searle said "This is a frustrating time for all involved however TSL remain in full support of the government and people of Sri Lanka during this unforeseen and unfortunate pandemic".

The board will advise once restrictions are lifted.
