Tuesday, 8 December 2020, Sydney: Bank of Queensland Limited (BOQ) today provided an update on business performance and on COVID-19 Banking Relief Package deferral data for November 2020 ahead of the Annual General Meeting scheduled for 11am (AEDT).

Managing Director and CEO George Frazis noted “BOQ continues to execute on its transformation program with the family and friends phase 1 launch of the Virgin Money digital bank going live this week. We reconfirm the FY21 outlook for BOQ to deliver broadly neutral jaws.”

COVID-19 Banking Relief Package Deferrals

BOQ is committed to supporting customers throughout this challenging period and is providing a range of options to customers as they reach the end of their loan deferral periods.

As at 30 November 2020 BOQ has 2,500 housing loans remaining in deferral with balances of $889m. These balances represent 3% of BOQ’s housing loan portfolio. BOQ has 3,300 SME loans remaining on deferral with balances of $390m as at 30 November 2020. These balances also represent 3% of BOQ’s total SME lending.

“It is really pleasing to see the vast majority of our customers who accessed the banking relief package resuming repayments. We will continue to work with the remaining 3% of customers still accessing our banking relief packages to support them in their recovery,” George Frazis commented.

Further information on BOQ’s banking relief packages is included in Appendix 1.
