1. Letter from the Chairman

Dear Shareholder,

Bonus Issue of Options

Further to our announcement to the ASX on 17 February 2021, I am pleased to advise that the Board of WQG Global Growth Limited (“WQG” or the “Company”) has resolved to issue bonus loyalty options (Options).

These Options will be issued on a one (1) for three (3) basis, and allow holders to subscribe for new shares in the Company at a fixed exercise price of $1.50 per share. The exercise period will run until 31 August 2022. The Options are expected to be listed on the ASX under the code (WQGOA).

The Options are being issued as a bonus and at no cost. No application monies are required.

The issue of the Options will provide a number of significant benefits to shareholders. These include:

- a) rewarding the loyalty and ongoing support of the Company’s existing shareholders by issuing the Options as a bonus;
- b) should the Options be exercised:
 - expanding the Company’s scale and increasing the liquidity of its shares;
 - increasing the breadth and depth of the Company’s shareholder base;
 - lowering WQG’s fixed operating cost per share; and
- c) reinforcing WQG’s position as a leading global equities listed investment company.

Eligible Shareholders will be entitled to receive one (1) Option for every three (3) shares held by them on the share register as at the Record Date, being 5:00pm (Sydney time) on 6 April 2021.

Each Option gives the holder the right to purchase one (1) WQG share and is exercisable at $1.50 per Option at any time prior to the Expiry Date, being 5:00pm Sydney time on 31 August 2022. If the maximum number of Options issued under this Prospectus of approximately 58.30 million is exercised, the Company will raise approximately $87.45 million. All proceeds from the exercise of Options are to be invested in accordance with the investment objectives and investment process of the Company.

4. Risk Factors

4.1 Risk factors

Investors should be aware that dealing in and exercising Options involves various risks. There are general risks associated with owning Securities in publicly listed companies. The price of Securities can go down as well as up due to factors outside the control of the Company. Some of these factors include Australian and worldwide economic and political stability, natural disasters, performance of the domestic and global share markets, interest rates, foreign exchange, taxation and labour relations environments.

The operating results and profitability of the Company are sensitive to a number of factors. The key risks the Company faces are:

Investment Strategy risks

- (a) Reliance on Manager and the Adviser - the success and profitability of the Company will largely depend upon the ability of the Adviser to manage the Portfolio in a manner that complies with the Company's objectives, Investment Strategy, investment guidelines and permitted investments set out in this Prospectus.
- (b) Performance fee risk – Any Adviser performance fee payable or potentially payable by the Manager to the Adviser may create an incentive for the Adviser to make investments on behalf of the Company that are riskier and more speculative than would be the case in the absence of a fee payable to the Adviser based solely on the performance of the Company, which may add to the risk and volatility of the Portfolio's underlying investments.
- (c) Key personnel risk – The Adviser's performance is largely dependent on the skills and efforts of its investment team. The Adviser's ability to perform effectively is dependent on its ability to retain and motivate its investment team, including its key employees. There can be no guarantee that the Adviser will be able to retain its investment team or that the Adviser will be able to attract and retain management personnel of sufficient experience and expertise to manage the Portfolio.
- (d) Potential conflicts of interest - The Manager is, and may continue to be, the manager or adviser to other funds and investment vehicles. It is possible therefore that the Manager may, in the course of its business, have potential conflicts of interest which may not be managed effectively and therefore may be detrimental to the Company and consequently Securityholders. The Adviser is, and may continue to be, the manager or adviser to other funds and investment vehicles. It is possible therefore that the Adviser may, in the course of its business, have potential conflicts of interest which may not be managed effectively and therefore may be detrimental to the Company and consequently Securityholders. This risk is managed through the requirement that the Manager and Adviser each have a conflicts of interest management policy.
- (e) Investment strategy risk – The success and profitability of the Company in part will depend upon the ability of the Adviser to invest in a Portfolio of well managed businesses that have the ability to increase in value overtime and which will have the ability to generate a return for the Company. The past performance of portfolios and funds currently managed by the Adviser are not necessarily a guide to future performance of the Company.
- (f) Investment risk - There is a risk that the Shares, Options and/or the Company's investments will fall in value over the short or long term. Individual security prices may fluctuate and under perform other asset classes over time. Investors in the Company are exposed to this risk through both their holding in the Securities and through the Company's investments. Also, the Shares in the Company may trade on ASX at a discount to the underlying value of the portfolio as reflected in the NTA backing per Share and the performance of the Shares and Options may not be correlated with the performance of the Portfolio.
- (g) Market risk - Investment returns are influenced by general market factors internationally and by factors specific to each security. In particular, the market prices of the shares in many listed entities have in recent times experienced wide fluctuations which in many cases reflect a diverse range of non-entity specific influences including:

- (i) general economic conditions, including changes in inflation rates, short-term or long-term interest rates, exchange rates and commodity prices;
 - (ii) variations in the local and global markets for listed securities;
 - (iii) domestic and international economic conditions;
 - (iv) changes in investor confidence generally and in relation to specific sectors of the market;
 - (v) natural disasters, global hostilities and acts of terrorism;
 - (vi) changes to government policy, legislation or regulation including in relation to taxation and other policy changes; and
 - (vii) the inclusion or removal of stocks from major market indices.
- (h) Valuation risk - Investments may not have a readily ascertainable market price and may have valuations that differ from their true and actual realisation value. In addition, the value of the Company's investments may fall due to operational and financial circumstances such as circumstances affecting an investment's underlying businesses (including their level and availability of debt and interest rates), their profits, earnings and cash flows.
- (i) Foreign issuer / foreign investment risk - Investments in foreign companies may be negatively impacted by sovereign, political, economic or market instability, reduced corporate governance standards, reduced levels of corporate disclosure or transparency and risks of unfavourable government actions (e.g. expropriate and nationalisation). In addition, changes in exchange rates and interest rates may adversely affect the value of the Company's foreign investments. Some countries may also have legal systems, taxation regimes, and auditing and accounting standards that are substantially different to those of Australia. Foreign financial intermediaries may be subject to less supervision and regulation than Australian financial firms.
- (j) Emerging market risk - Many of the risks with respect to foreign investments are more pronounced for investments in issuers in emerging market countries. Emerging market countries tend to have more government exchange controls, more volatile interest and currency exchange rates, less market regulation, and less developed economic, political and legal systems than those of more developed countries. In addition, emerging market countries may experience high levels of inflation and may have less liquid securities markets and less efficient trading and settlement systems.
- (k) Growth-oriented investment strategies risk - Growth investment processes generally focus on stocks of companies believed to have above average potential for growth in revenue and earnings. Growth Securities typically are sensitive to market movements because their market prices frequently reflect projections of future earnings or revenues, and when it appears that those expectations will not be met, the prices of growth Securities typically fall.
- (l) Interest rate movements - Changes in short and long term interest rates can have a positive or negative impact on investment returns. The Company is exposed to movements in Australian interest rates as well as movements to interest rates in each jurisdiction in which it holds investments. The Adviser's careful analysis of macroeconomic issues and detailed research in combination with diversified holdings, aims to minimise this risk.
- (m) Currency risk and hedging - Foreign exchange fluctuations may have a positive or adverse impact on the investment returns of the Company. In addition, the Company may be exposed to risks relating to any of its investments in Securities of entities which are located in a foreign jurisdiction, where the laws of those foreign jurisdictions offer less legal rights and protections to security holders of Securities in such foreign entities as compared with the laws in Australia.

The Company does not currently hedge its foreign currency exposure and, accordingly, its investments will be exposed to foreign currency fluctuations.

Risks of investing in the Company

- (a) Manager entrenchment risk - Under the terms of the Investment Management Agreement, the Manager is appointed for an Initial Term of up to 10 years. That appointment can only be terminated during the Initial Term in limited circumstances.
- (b) Liquidity risk - There is a risk that the Portfolio's underlying investments may not be easily converted to cash particularly if the investments are in an illiquid class of assets and/or during stressed market conditions. The ability of a Securityholder to sell Shares and/or Options on the ASX will be a function of the turnover or liquidity of the Shares and Options at the time of sale. Turnover is a function of a wide variety of factors including the size of a company and the cumulative investment intention of all current and possible investors in the Company at any one point in time.
- (c) Regulatory risk - The Company is subject to a range of regulatory controls imposed by government (federal and state) and regulatory authorities (for example, ASX and ASIC). The relevant regulatory regimes are complex and are subject to change over time depending on changes in the laws and the policies of the governments and regulatory authorities. The Company is exposed to the risk of changes to the applicable laws and/or the interpretation of existing laws which may have a negative effect on the Company, its investments and/or returns to Securityholders or the risks associated with non-compliance with these laws (including but not limited to the laws of the United States of America, countries in Asia and Europe in which the Company may make investments, reporting or other legal obligations). Non-compliance may result in financial penalties being levied against the Company or adversely affect the value of the Portfolio and performance of the Company.
- (d) Dividend risk - There is no guarantee or assurance that dividends will be paid on Shares issued on exercise of an Option in the future, as this is a matter to be determined by the Board in its discretion and the Board's decision will have regard to, among other things, the financial performance and position of the Company, relative to its capital expenditure and other liabilities. To the extent that the Company pays any dividends, the Company may not have sufficient franking credits in the future to frank dividends, or the franking system may be subject to review or reform. The value and availability of franking credits to a Shareholder will differ depending on the Shareholder's particular tax circumstances. Shareholders should also be aware that the ability to use franking credits, either as a tax offset or to claim a refund after the end of the income year, will depend on the individual tax position of each Shareholder. The ability of the Company to pay a fully or partly franked dividend is contingent on it making taxable profits. The Company's taxable profits may be volatile, making the reliable forecasting and payment and franking of dividends difficult and unpredictable. No guarantee can be given concerning the future earnings of the Company, the earnings and capital appreciation of the Portfolio or the return of the capital invested by Shareholders. As the objective of the Company is long term capital growth, there may be periods in respect of which dividends may be low or are not paid at all.
- (e) Accounting policy risk - Changes to accounting policies may influence the approach in determining the fair value of investments held by the Company and may have a detrimental impact on the fair value of investments.
- (f) Future capital requirements - There can be no assurance that the Company will not need to raise additional capital to exploit fully business opportunities available to it. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to raise such capital on favourable terms (or at all) or, if it is able to raise the capital, that it will be able to invest that capital efficiently. If the Company is unable to obtain or invest such additional capital, the Company may be required to reduce the scope of its investment activities or forgo an investment opportunity, which could adversely affect its business, financial condition and results of operation.
- (g) Litigation risk - The Company is exposed to possible litigation risks including contractual disputes, professional services liability claims and employee claims. Further, the Company may be involved in disputes with service providers and third parties in the future which may result in litigation. Any such claim or dispute, whether successful or not, may adversely impact the Company's share price, operations, financial performance and financial position. Additionally, it is possible that the Company will hold Securities in an entity which becomes subject to litigation. This may adversely affect the value of that security, and therefore have an adverse effect on the Company's financial performance. The Company is not currently involved in any litigation.

- (h) Listed company risk - The market price of the Company's Securities may not correlate exactly to the underlying value of the Portfolio as reflected in its NTA backing per Share. The Securities may trade on the ASX at a price that is above (i.e. a premium) or below (i.e. a discount) the Company's NTA backing per Share over short or long periods. To provide investors with greater transparency, the Company releases to the ASX a statement of its weekly NTA backing per Share in addition to its monthly NTA backing per Share in accordance with the Listing Rules. Notwithstanding the above, the share price of listed companies, including the Company is affected by a diverse range of non-Company specific factors which are outside the Company's control, such as the general state of the domestic or global economy, the general volatility of the Australian share market and general market sentiments.

General risks

- (a) Share market risk - The price of Shares and Options may rise or fall depending upon a range of factors beyond the Company's control and which are unrelated to the Company's operational performance. The price of Securities listed on ASX may also be affected by a range of factors including the Company's financial performance and by changes in the business environment. There are a number of national and international market factors that may affect the price of a Share or Option, including movements on international stock markets, economic conditions and general economic outlook, interest rates and exchange rates, inflation rates, commodity supply and demand, government taxation and royalties, legislation, monetary and other policy changes and general investors' perceptions. Neither the Company nor its Directors have control over these factors.
- (b) Trading and liquidity in Shares and Options – There is no guarantee or assurance that an active market for Shares and Options will exist or that the price of Shares and Options will increase. There may be relatively few potential buyers or sellers of Shares and Options on ASX at any given time which will impact upon Share and Option liquidity. This may increase the volatility of the market price of Shares and Options and may also impact upon the ability of Securityholders to be able to sell their Shares or Options at a price that is more or less than that paid by the Securityholder.
- (c) Taxation - There are tax implications arising from buying and selling Shares and Options, the receipt of dividends (both franked and unfranked) (if any) from the Company and participation in any Share buy-back.
- (d) Government actions and other events - The impact of actions by domestic and international governments may affect the Company's activities, including in relation to its infrastructure, compliance with environmental regulations, export, taxation and royalties. Events may occur within or outside Australia that could impact on the world economy, the Company's operations and the price of its Shares and Options. The minimum number of Options that may be exercised at any one time is one-thousand 1,000 Options (unless the Option holder holds less than one-thousand 1,000 Options in which case all the Options held by that Option holder must be exercised).

Payment to the Company can be made by enclosing your cheque with the form or it can be made by EFT. The EFT details are enclosed on your personalised Option Exercise Form (which will be sent to you separately).

If you need a new Option Exercise Form, please contact Link Market Services on 1300 911 275 (within Australia) and +61 1300 911 275 (from outside Australia), from 8:30am to 7:30pm Sydney time Monday to Friday.

5.4 ASX quotation of the Options

Within 7 days after the date of this Prospectus, application will be made to the ASX for the Options to be quoted on the ASX.

If the ASX does not give permission for quotation of the Options within 3 months after the date of this Prospectus (or a later date permitted by ASIC), none of the Options will be issued and if any have been issued, the issue will be void, unless ASIC grants an exemption permitting the Issue.

It is expected that quotation of the Options will initially be on a deferred settlement basis.

5.5 Issue and allotment of Options

No Options or other Securities will be issued on the basis of this Prospectus later than the expiry date of this Prospectus being the date 13 months after the date of this Prospectus.

It is expected the Options will be issued on 13 April 2021 and the Option holding statements will be despatched together with a copy of this Prospectus (currently expected to be before 16 April 2021).

5.6 Overseas Shareholders & Eligible Shareholders

The Options are not offered in any jurisdiction in which, or to any person to whom, it would be unlawful to make such an offer.

The Company may form the view that it is unreasonable to make the Issue to overseas Shareholders in jurisdictions (Excluded Holders) having regard to:

- (a) the number of Excluded Holders within the relevant jurisdiction;
- (b) the number and value of Shares held by those Excluded Holders; and
- (c) the cost of complying with overseas legal requirements within the relevant jurisdiction.

The Issue is not being extended, and does not qualify for distribution or sale, and the Options may not be issued to a Shareholder with a registered address outside Australia, New Zealand and any other jurisdiction in which it is not lawful to make the offers of Options in accordance with this Prospectus.

This Prospectus does not constitute an offer of Securities in any place in which, or to any person to whom, it would not be lawful to make such an offer or to make the Issue. Where the Prospectus has been despatched to persons domiciled in a country other than Australia or New Zealand, and where that country's securities code or legislation prohibits or restricts in any way the making of the Issue, the Prospectus is provided for information purposes only.

5.7 Taxation

The potential tax effects relating to the Issue will vary between Shareholders. Securityholders are urged to consider the possible tax consequences of exercising Options by consulting a professional tax adviser.

The Directors do not consider that it is appropriate to give Securityholders advice regarding the taxation consequences of being granted Options under this Prospectus as it is not possible to provide a comprehensive summary of the possible taxation positions of all Shareholders. The Company, its advisers and officers do not accept any responsibility or liability for any taxation consequences to Securityholders in respect of the Issue. Securityholders should consult their own professional tax adviser in connection with the taxation implications of the Issue.

Before deciding to exercise your Options, you should consider whether the Shares to be issued and allotted on exercise of the Options are a suitable investment for you. There are general risks associated with any investment in the stock market. The value of Shares listed on the ASX may rise or fall depending on a range of factors beyond the control of the Company.

If you are in doubt as to the course you should follow, you should seek advice on the matters contained in this Prospectus from a stockbroker, financial advisor, accountant, solicitor or other professional adviser immediately.

8. Overview of the Company

8.1 Overview of Investment Strategy

The Company's Investment Strategy is to maintain a high conviction, actively managed long-only equities portfolio invested in listed securities of developed market (ex-Australia) and emerging market companies. The Investment Strategy takes a high conviction, active approach.

The Company invests in assets in quality global growth businesses with high returns on invested capital, superior growth prospects and low debt that are fundamentally attractively value. It avoids companies which appear overvalued, or those that may appear cheap, but are low quality investments. The portfolio typically comprises between 20 and 40 securities and may hold between 0% - 7% cash and cash equivalents.

Key attributes of the Company's Investment Strategy:

- Provides access to the investment philosophy and process of the Adviser, a specialist active manager of global equities with a successful track record of generating total returns above the Benchmark.
- Opportunity to gain diversified exposure to global listed companies, outside of the limited opportunity afforded of the ASX listed market.
- Disciplined research of the global listed company universe to determine the relative attractiveness of each sub-sector, coupled with detailed bottom-up analysis of individual companies.
- The strategy offers a value-added total return approach to investing in global listed markets, an asset class that has historically been characterised by attractive and strong total returns.
- The Adviser employs a dedicated, stable and experienced investment team to provide coverage of the universe of globally listed companies. The Adviser's investment process has delivered successful results over time, and its investment philosophy has remained consistent since inception in 2008.

8.2 Investment Philosophy

As the Adviser to the Company, WCM Investment Management's investment philosophy has five key elements which forms the core of their investment process:

MOATS	Businesses with durable and growing competitive advantages
CULTURE	Great people, empowered and engaged, define success
TAILWINDS	Businesses benefiting from long-lasting global trends
FOCUSSED	Only best ideas; outperform with controlled risk
VALUATION	Great growth companies at fair prices contributes to margin of safety

8.3 Investment Process

The investment process is a rigorous and multi-disciplined approach combining thematic and company-specific issues. A new investment only makes its way into the portfolio once the thesis has been rigorously tested and debated within WCM's Investment Strategy Group.

The Company invests in equity securities of companies with a market capitalisation greater than or equal to USD$3.5 billion located throughout the developed and emerging markets, excluding Australia, representing a listed universe covering more than 2,100 companies. This universe of companies is then put through several quantitative filters including high/rising returns on invested capital exceeding the cost of capital; low or no debt; high or rising margins and historical growth which further narrows the number of companies for consideration to approximately 450 in total.

Fundamental analysis narrows the quality global growth investment universe further again from approximately 450 companies to approximately 225.

The portfolio construction stage of the process incorporates risk management/mitigation. Initial positions for those companies entering the portfolio will be between 2% and 5% with the maximum position size being 10%. The portfolio has exposure to at least 15 industries with the maximum exposure to any single industry capped at 15%. The Company adopts a maximum sector exposure of 35% for the quality global growth strategy along with a maximum emerging markets exposure of 35% (by domicile).

The result is a high conviction, actively-managed portfolio of typically 20 – 40 high quality, global growth companies, diversified across individual stocks, sectors (including information technology, consumer sectors of staples and discretionary, healthcare, financials and industrials) and countries, both developed (including USA, UK, Europe, Japan) and emerging (including China, India, Brazil). Investments are based on the rigorous bottom-up stock analysis undertaken by WCM Investment Management.

The portfolio is monitored to ensure the companies held meet or exceed investment return expectations. The typical holding period for a company within the portfolio is expected to be 5 to 7 years

An Option may be exercised on any business day from issue to 5:00pm (Sydney time) on the Expiry Date (inclusive), but not thereafter.

A notice of exercise of options is only effective when the Company has received the full amount of the exercise price in cash or cleared funds.

Dividend entitlement

Options do not carry any dividend entitlement. Shares issued on exercise of Options rank equally with other issued Shares of the Company on and from issue.

Option holders may only participate in new issues of Securities to holders of Shares in the Company if the Option has been exercised and Shares allotted in respect of the Option before the record date for determining entitlements to the issue. The Company must give at least 4 business days' notice to Option holders of any new issue before the record date for determining entitlements to the issue in accordance with the Listing Rules.

Where:

NE is the new exercise price of the Option;

OE is the old exercise price of the Option;

E is the number of underlying Shares into which one Option is exercisable;

P is the average market price per Share (weighted by reference to volume) during the five trading days ending on the day before the ex rights date or ex entitlements date (excluding special crossings and overnight sales);

If there is a bonus issue to the holders of Shares in the capital of the Company, the number of Shares over which the Option is exercisable will be increased by the number of Shares which the holder of the Option would have received if the Option had been exercised before the record date for the bonus issue.

Reconstructions and alterations of capital

Any adjustment to the number of outstanding Options and the exercise price under a re-organisation of the Company's share capital must be made in accordance with the Listing Rules.

ASX listing
