Additionally, the quality profile of the 2020/2021 winter crop has exceeded expectations. At DBF's New South Wales aggregation, 98% of all wheat produced was above the base grade of ASW1.

As at 19 February 2021, the Company is holding a portion of grain, with the intention to sell down the majority, excluding amounts retained for internal use, before the end of the financial year. Revenue resulting from the sale of grain remains dependent on grain prices ultimately achieved.

Earnings Outlook

With consideration to the ASX's Guidance Note 8 on continuous disclosure requirements, the Company also wishes to provide guidance on the implications of the harvest for its earnings outlook for the financial year ended 30 June 2021 (FY21), as its earnings for FY21 are likely to differ materially from earnings for FY20.

The Company has not published any earnings guidance for FY21 and is not covered by any sell-side analysts. As such, the Board's best estimate of the market's expectation for FY21 earnings is based on the Company's prior corresponding period ("PCP"). Investors are reminded that past performance will not always be a reliable indicator of future performance.

DBF's PCP earnings based on its FY20 financial report was a net loss of $1,466,000. The Company is expecting its corresponding earnings for FY21 to be materially higher than for FY20. This is primarily due to the stark contrast in harvest results from the PCP as set out above, as well as favourable market conditions for livestock. DBF is expecting revenue to increase by an order of magnitude of 1.66 from the PCP and to have positive earnings as a result.
