AUSTAL UPDATE ON REPORTED INTEREST IN PHILIPPINES SHIPBUILDING FACILITY

Austal Limited (Austal) (ASX:ASB) refers to its ASX announcement of 15 August 2019 which references the Company's reported participation in a consortium that is in negotiations to purchase the former Hanjin Heavy Industries shipyard at Subic Bay in the Philippines.

Various media articles in recent days have referenced comments from Australia's ambassador to the Philippines, Steven Robinson, that: "I'm hopeful that there will be some progress made in the next month or two that will see a finalisation of all those negotiations".

Austal's position of August 2019 remains. Austal has made major investments in its Australasian shipyards, including in the Philippines, and is continually assessing opportunities to further expand its operations if they create additional shareholder value. However, there is no certainty that any additional expansion opportunities will be either pursued or completed.

Austal notes that its investors are well aware of the Company's strategy to move into steel shipbuilding, in addition to aluminium, which the Company has commenced in both the United States and Australia, and there is an ambition to do the same in Asia.

Austal will keep the market informed in compliance with its continuous disclosure obligations.

This ASX announcement has been approved and authorised for release by Paddy Gregg, Austal Limited's Chief Executive Officer.
