APPENDIX B KEY RISKS

KEY RISKS

INTRODUCTION

This section sets out some of the key risks associated with an investment in carsales, together with risks relating to participation in the Entitlement Offer which may affect the value of securities in carsales. The risks set out are not listed in order of importance and do not constitute an exhaustive list of all risks involved with an investment in carsales.

Before investing in carsales you should be aware that a number of risks and uncertainties, which are both specific to carsales and of a more general nature, may affect the future operating and financial performance of carsales and the value of carsales shares.

Before investing in carsales shares, you should carefully consider the risk factors and your personal circumstances. Potential investors should consider publicly available information on carsales (such as that available on the ASX website), and consult their stockbroker, solicitor, accountant or other professional advisor before making an investment decision.

Nothing in this Presentation is financial product advice and this document has been prepared without taking into account your investment objectives or personal circumstances.

ACQUISITION SPECIFIC RISKS

Completion Risks

- carsales expects the Acquisition to proceed as advised in this Presentation. If the Acquisition fails to complete or completion is delayed, the expected financial performance of carsales could be adversely affected and the benefits of the Acquisition outlined in this presentation would not be realised.
- If the Acquisition does not complete and carsales has raised proceeds under the Entitlement Offer, carsales will need to consider alternative uses for those proceeds, or ways to return such proceeds to shareholders. If completion of the Acquisition is delayed, carsales may incur additional costs and it may take longer than anticipated for carsales to realise the anticipated benefits of the Acquisition.
- Failure to complete the Acquisition may be due to intervention by a regulatory body or order of a court of competent jurisdiction that prevents completion from occurring, or a failure to satisfy any of the conditions precedent to the Securities Purchase Agreement, amongst other factors. Completion may also be impacted or prevented as a result of changes in the relevant legal and regulatory frameworks in the United States.
- The Securities Purchase Agreement contains a number of customary closing conditions including obtaining the necessary regulatory approvals. The conditions which are expected to be satisfied in early 1H FY22 but these are not within carsales' control.

Due Diligence

- carsales has undertaken a due diligence process in relation to Trader Interactive which relied in part on the review of financial and other information provided by Trader Interactive considers this due diligence process to be appropriate.
- Despite making reasonable efforts, carsales has not been able to verify the accuracy, reliability or completeness of all of the information which was provided to it against independent data. carsales' assumptions and analysis may be inaccurate, including as a result of incorrect or missing information, flawed analysis methods or incorrect assumptions. There is no assurance that the due diligence conducted was conclusive and that all material issues and risks in respect of the Acquisition have been completely or accurately identified and avoided (or managed appropriately) and actual performance or circumstances may differ from carsales' conclusions.
- There is a risk that unforeseen issues and risks in respect of the Acquisition in relation to Trader Interactive and its business may arise, which may have a material adverse impact on carsales (for example, carsales may later discover liabilities or issues which were not identified through due diligence or for which there is no protection for carsales). This could adversely affect the operations, financial performance or position of both Trader Interactive and carsales.

Future Earnings Risks

- carsales has undertaken financial and business analysis of Trader Interactive in order to determine its attractiveness to carsales and whether to pursue the Acquisition. It is possible that such analysis, and the best estimate assumptions made by carsales, draw conclusions and forecasts that are inaccurate or which will not be realised in due course. To the extent that the actual results achieved by Trader Interactive are different than those anticipated there is a risk that the profitability and future earnings of Trader Interactive may differ (including in a materially adverse way) from the performance as described in this Presentation.

Acquisition Accounting

- carsales is required to undertake an assessment of the fair value of the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed (including contingent liabilities) of Trader Interactive at the date of the Acquisition. If this assessment is incomplete as at the end of a carsales reporting period, reported amounts will be disclosed as provisional and will be finalised within 12 months of completion of the Acquisition. For the purposes of this Presentation, carsales has not estimated the fair value split of identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed on the basis this would be too judgemental at this stage. This fair value assessment will be completed within 12 months post Acquisition.
- Additionally, Trader Interactive prepares its financial statements in compliance with GAAP. Any changes to these accounting standards or to the interpretation of those standards may have an adverse effect on the reported financial performance of Trader Interactive and therefore may impact the reported value of Trader Interactive to carsales in the future.

Key Employees

- Trader Interactive relies on the talent and experience of its key senior management and staff generally. The loss of any key personnel could cause disruption to the conduct of Trader Interactive's business in the short term and may have a material adverse impact on Trader Interactive's operations and/or financial performance.

Regulatory Risks	<ul style="list-style-type: none">carsales will be acquiring a large interest in a United States-based entity. This Acquisition requires carsales to comply with the onerous laws and regulations of the United States in relation to acquisitions, as well as the laws and regulations relating to operating a business in the United States. Any material breach of the relevant legal or regulatory obligations or failure to meet compliance requirements may have an adverse impact on, or will prevent completion of, the Acquisition, and may also have an adverse impact on the financial performance and operating position of carsales.
Legal Risks	<ul style="list-style-type: none">The Acquisition will involve carsales entering into a number of transaction documents, including the Securities Purchase Agreement. While the documents contain some protections in respect of certain historical liabilities for Trader Interactive, there is always a risk that the documents do not contain adequate protection for potential liabilities in relation to Trader Interactive's business or other costs, potentially exposing carsales to the risk of future costs or disputes arising in relation to the Acquisition.
Impact of COVID-19	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Trader Interactive's business and operations are exposed to the effects of COVID-19. COVID-19 poses significant risks of disruption to the Trader Interactive business, impaired financial performance, as well as potential impacts on the wellbeing of personnel. The long term impacts of COVID-19 on the general economy, non-automotive industry and Trader Interactive are uncertain and the future financial and operational performance of Trader Interactive may continue to be adversely impacted by adverse impacts from COVID-19.
Global Markets and Foreign Exchange Risk	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Trader Interactive has significant operations in the United States. As a result of carsales increasing its global reach in the United States, carsales will be further exposed to the performance of the United States' domestic economy as well as global macroeconomic conditions. carsales will also become more exposed to fluctuations in the value of the United States Dollar, as well as other global currencies, than it was prior to the Acquisition. In cases where carsales' debt or other obligations are in currencies different than the currency in which carsales earns revenue, carsales may face higher costs to service those debts, which could impact on its financial performance or position. Fluctuations in the exchange rates, may also decrease the expected contributions made by Trader Interactive to carsales' earnings, resulting in an adverse impact on carsales' financial position.
Minority Stake	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Following completion of the Acquisition, carsales will hold a 49% interest in Trader Interactive. Accordingly, carsales will not control Trader Interactive and the remaining 51% interest will be held by the Sponsors and Trader Interactive's management and employees.carsales has a call option in relation to all remaining interest in Trader Interactive on specified terms, which it can exercise at its discretion. Post the expiry of this call option, the Sponsors have the right to conduct a sales process if they wish to. There are circumstances where carsales may be dragged into selling its interest in Trader Interactive as part of this sales process.

Historical Liabilities

- If the Acquisition completes, carsales will have exposure to any liabilities that Trader Interactive has incurred or agreed to incur in the past, including liabilities in connection with the Acquisition, such as adviser fees, payments under management incentive plans and those triggered by future control transactions.
- In addition, carsales will be exposed to any liabilities which were not identified during its due diligence or which are greater than expected, for which insurance may not be adequate or available, and for which carsales may not have post-Completion recourse under the . These could include liabilities relating to current or future litigation, regulatory actions and other liabilities. Such liability may adversely affect the financial performance or position of carsales post-Acquisition.

Debt Funding and Refinance Risk

- The use of debt financing to partially fund the Acquisition means that carsales will be more exposed to risks associated with gearing and higher leverage ratios, as its debt levels will increase. In addition, carsales will be more exposed to general risks relating to any refinancing of its debt facilities. It may be more difficult for carsales to refinance all or some of these debt facilities in the future and may result in an inability to secure new debt facilities at a similar quantum and cost to existing debt facilities which may adversely affect its financial performance. There is also a risk that shareholders do not agree with the increase in carsales' debt levels and may seek to reduce their shareholding, which may result in a fall in carsales' share price.
- Additionally, there is a risk that post completion of the Acquisition, Trader Interactive will need to access debt markets to refinance maturing debt or access debt for corporate purposes. Possible increases in the interest rate, the cost of interest rate hedges and the level of financial covenants required by lenders may adversely impact on the operational and financial results of Trader Interactive.

Underwriting Risk

- carsales has entered into an Underwriting Agreement with the Underwriters, pursuant to which the Underwriters have agreed to underwrite the Entitlement Offer, subject to the terms and conditions contained therein. If certain conditions are not satisfied or if certain termination events occur, the Underwriters may terminate the Underwriting Agreement. Those termination events are summarised in Appendix B of this Presentation.
- Termination of the Underwriting Agreement may have a material impact on the proceeds raised under the Entitlement Offer. In these circumstances, carsales would need to find alternative funding to meet its contractual obligations under the Securities Purchase Agreement to pay the purchase price, which may result in carsales incurring additional costs (for example, by way of interest payments on debt) and/or potential restrictions being imposed on the manner in which carsales conducts its business and deals with its assets. There is no guarantee that alternative funding could be sourced on satisfactory terms and conditions or at all. Termination of the Underwriting Agreement could materially adversely affect carsales' business, cash flow, financial condition and results of operations.

RISKS RELATED TO INVESTMENT IN CARSALES

Relationship with Dealers and OEMs	<ul style="list-style-type: none">carsales derives a significant proportion of its revenue from motor vehicle dealers and automotive manufacturers (OEMs). A change in the size and/or structure of this market could impact carsales' earnings. In particular, consolidation of the dealer market with fewer, larger dealers or increased manufacturer control of dealers' online advertising activity may impact upon the financial performance of carsales.In addition, a significant proportion of carsales' revenue is generated under monthly agreements with motor vehicle dealers. Should a significant number of dealers cancel or fail to renew their agreements, this may have an adverse effect on the financial performance of carsales.
Reputational Risks	<ul style="list-style-type: none">The success of carsales and its businesses around the world is heavily reliant on its reputation and branding. Unforeseen issues or events, which place carsales' reputation at risk, may impact its future growth and profitability.
Competition	<ul style="list-style-type: none">The online automotive advertising industry is highly competitive. While carsales will undertake all reasonable due diligence in its business decisions and operations, carsales will have no influence or control over the activities or actions of its competitors, whose activities or actions may positively or negatively affect the operating and financial performance of carsales' projects and business. For instance, new technologies could result in carsales' various online platforms not being sufficiently differentiated to other similar offerings. carsales' ability to develop additional online features could be adversely affected if it is unable to respond effectively and/or in a timely manner to the strategies and actions of competitors and potential competitors or the entry of new competitors into the market. This may in turn impede the financial condition and rate of growth of carsales. carsales' key competition risk is in achieving appreciable market share and differentiation from its key competitors.
Downturn in Economy or Advertising Market	<ul style="list-style-type: none">The performance of carsales will continue to be influenced by the overall condition of the motor vehicle market. The motor vehicle market is influenced by the general condition of the Australian economy, which by its nature is cyclical and subject to change. In addition, carsales derives a significant proportion of its revenue from display advertisers on its network of websites.A decline or significant change in the advertising market as a result of broader economic influences or changing advertiser trends could have a negative impact on carsales' future earnings.
Litigation or Disputes	<ul style="list-style-type: none">In the ordinary course of business, carsales may be involved in possible disputes. These disputes could give rise to litigation.While the extent of any disputes and litigation cannot be ascertained at this time, any dispute or litigation may be costly and may adversely affect the operational and financial results of carsales. There is also a risk that carsales' reputation may suffer due to the profile and public scrutiny surrounding any such litigation and disputes regardless of their outcome.

RISKS RELATED TO INVESTMENT IN CARSALES (continued)

Information Technology

- The performance of carsales' websites is very important to the reputation of carsales' businesses, its ability to attract customers and ability to achieve overall market acceptance of its services.
- carsales' websites and business operations rely on owned and third party IT infrastructure and systems, telecommunications operators, data centres and other third parties to maintain its websites and provide its products and services to customers.
- Any interruption to these operations or loss of customer data could impair carsales' ability to operate its customer facing websites which could have a negative impact on carsales' financial performance and reputation. carsales' financial performance will also depend on its ability to monitor and manage major projects such as website upgrades and other projects involving its IT infrastructure.
- Although carsales' systems have been designed around industry standard architectures, they remain vulnerable to damage or interruption from earthquakes, floods, fires, power loss, telecommunication failures, terrorist attacks, computer viruses or similar events. carsales' disaster recovery planning cannot account for all eventualities. carsales' websites have experienced system failures in the past and may do so in the future.
- If frequent or persistent significant system failures are experienced on carsales' websites, carsales may need to take steps to increase the reliability of its systems and invest in further or improved back-up systems. This could be expensive, reduce operating margins and may not be successful in reducing the frequency or duration of unscheduled downtime. It would also negatively impact carsales' business reputation and brand name.

Cyber Security

- The cyber threat to companies around the world is growing and unrelenting. carsales as an online business is not immune to these risks. carsales is vigilant and proactive in its approach to cyber security, investing resources to meet the challenges of a complex cyber environment in order to protect our customers' data. A cyberattack or hack of carsales' systems could have serious impacts on carsales' reputation, operational and financial performance.
- carsales' businesses may be adversely affected by malicious third party applications that interfere with, or exploit, security flaws in its websites. Viruses, worms and other malicious software programs could, among other things, jeopardise the security of information stored in a user's computer or in carsales' computer systems or attempt to change the internet experience of users by interfering with carsales' ability to connect with its users.
- If carsales' efforts to combat these malicious applications are unsuccessful, or if its products and services have actual or perceived vulnerabilities, carsales' business reputation and brand name may be harmed and user traffic could decline, which may result in a material adverse effect on carsales' operations and financial position.

RISKS RELATED TO INVESTMENT IN CARSALES (continued)

Dependence on Internet Infrastructure

- carsales' online businesses are dependent on the ongoing maintenance of the global, regional and local internet infrastructure to provide the necessary data speed, capacity and security to allow it to offer viable services.
- The internet has experienced significant growth in the number of users and amount of traffic. To the extent that the internet continues to experience increased numbers of users, there can be no assurance that the internet infrastructure will continue to be able to support the demands placed on it by continued growth.
- Any ongoing or serious disruptions to the performance of the internet in carsales' markets will adversely affect its operations and growth plans and would damage its business reputation and brand name.

Intellectual Property

- carsales regards substantial elements of its websites, software tools, applications, databases and underlying technology as proprietary. Despite precautionary measures, third parties may copy or otherwise obtain and use carsales' proprietary information without authorisation or may develop similar technology independently. In addition, competitors may be able to design around carsales' technology or develop competing technologies substantially similar to those of carsales without any infringement of carsales' proprietary rights. Any legal action that carsales may bring to protect its proprietary information could be unsuccessful and expensive and would divert management's attention from its business operations.
- carsales is also subject to the risk of claims alleging infringement of third-party proprietary rights. If carsales infringes upon the rights of third parties, it may be unable to obtain licences to use those rights on commercially reasonable terms. Third parties that provide products and services that are critical to carsales' business may be subject to similar claims, which could prevent them from continuing to provide these products and services to carsales. In either of these events, carsales may be required to undertake substantial reengineering of its systems or processes in order to continue offering its services and it may not succeed in doing so. In addition, any claim of infringement could use substantial management time and result in carsales incurring substantial costs to negotiate and resolve the claim. Furthermore, a party making such a claim could secure a judgment that requires carsales to pay substantial damages, which could adversely affect carsales' business and financial condition.

Insurance

- Not all risks are insured or insurable. carsales cannot be certain that its current insurance is adequate or that adequate insurance coverage for potential losses and liabilities will be available in the future on commercially reasonable terms. If carsales experiences a loss in the future, the proceeds of the applicable insurance policies, if any, may not be adequate to cover replacement costs, lost revenues, increased expenses or liabilities to third parties.
- Additionally, carsales' current insurance policies may not cover newly acquired assets or businesses (including its investment in Trader Interactive) and/or such acquisition may involve a substantial increase in premium to achieve coverage. These risks may have a materially adverse effect on carsales' financial position and performance.

RISKS RELATED TO INVESTMENT IN CARSALES (continued)

Expiry or Termination of Material Contracts

- carsales relies on service providers for a number of ongoing services, which if terminated might have significant financial and operational implications for carsales' business. While carsales seeks to manage these arrangements, from time to time, in the ordinary course of business, material contracts will be terminated by the counterparty, expire or come up for renegotiations.
- While carsales carefully manages the replacement and renegotiation of material contracts and seeks to maintain positive relationships with counterparties, there is a risk that a counterparty may not be willing to enter into a further agreement or may seek to renegotiate the terms of the contract on less favourable terms for carsales. If any of the material contracts are terminated by the counterparty, not renewed or renegotiated on less favourable terms, it may have an adverse impact on carsales' financial performance and position.

Future Acquisitions

- carsales may consider acquisitions where it believes they are supportive of carsales' growth strategy.
- There are a number of potential risk associated with acquisitions, including but not limited to the integration of financial, operational and managerial resources. If the assets or businesses are not successfully integrated, this may have a material adverse effect on carsales' financial and operational performance.
- In addition, while carsales will conduct due diligence on proposed acquisitions, there is no assurance that an acquisition will perform as forecast once fully integrated, or successfully achieve the desired objectives, including, where applicable, any synergies. Further, carsales may encounter unanticipated events, circumstances or legal liabilities in connection with any proposed acquisition, including risks with financing or refinancing any proposed acquisition.

Financial Regulations and Credit Availability

- carsales is exposed to various regulatory environments across the markets and geographies in which it operates.
- Changes to regulations in the future could result in a material reduction in finance related revenues and profitability.

RISKS RELATED TO INVESTMENT IN CARSALES (continued)

Key Personnel

- carsales relies on the talent and experience of its directors, key senior management and staff generally. The loss of any key personnel could cause disruption to the conduct of carsales' business in the short term and may have a material adverse impact on carsales' operations and/or financial performance.
- It may be difficult to replace key personnel, or to do so in a timely manner or at comparable expense. carsales regularly reviews its succession planning to ensure that key personnel risk is identified and managed.

Culture and Talent

- carsales takes great pride in its employee training, policies, procedures and other initiatives to foster a positive corporate culture that reflects the behaviours needed for future success. However, poor corporate culture can lead to, amongst other things, unethical practices, lack of trust, poor decision-making, increased employee turnover and reduced motivation. Any of these outcomes may have a material adverse impact on carsales' operations and financial performance.
- As with carsales' key personnel, the future success of carsales will depend substantially on its ability to attract and retain high quality staff and consultants. carsales relies on its highly capable staff to manage the operational, sales, compliance and other functions of its business. There is a risk that, if carsales is understaffed (or the workload of existing staff is unsustainable), carsales' operational and financial performance will suffer.

International Expansion

- With the expansion of the business into new high growth international geographies, carsales becomes exposed to the macroeconomic environment of these markets as well as to fluctuations in exchange rates. carsales may not be able to fully recoup its investment in these markets should it not be able to accelerate the growth of its business through the implementation of carsales' business models, intellectual property and technologies.

Regulatory Risk

- carsales must comply with wide ranging laws and regulations in each of the jurisdictions in which it operates, which include consumer protection laws. Changes to laws and regulations that apply to carsales in any of the jurisdictions in which carsales operates may have a material adverse effect on carsales' business, financial position and prospects.
- Further, regulatory requirements in any of the jurisdictions in which carsales operates may become more burdensome in the future, which may result in carsales being required to dedicate more time, resources and expenditure to ensure compliance. Any material breach of the relevant legal or regulatory obligations or failure to meet compliance requirements may have an adverse impact on the financial performance and operating position of carsales

GENERAL RISKS

Dividends

- The payment of dividends in respect of carsales' shares is impacted by several factors, including carsales' profitability, capital requirements and free cash flow.
- Any future dividends will be determined by carsales' board having regard to these factors, among others. There is no guarantee that any dividend will be paid by carsales, or if paid, paid at historical levels.

COVID-19

- The COVID-19 pandemic and government responses to it (including associated restrictions) have impacted carsales' operating business to varying degrees. carsales' share price may be adversely affected in the short to medium term by the economic uncertainty caused by COVID-19.
- The length and duration of the current pandemic and the economic impact remain uncertain. The pandemic will continue to have an ongoing and unknown impact on carsales. Any further virus outbreaks in Australia or overseas may adversely affect carsales' operations and financial performance and are beyond carsales' control.
- In light of COVID-19, extra caution should be exercised when assessing the risks associated with an investment in carsales. The continually changing situation is bringing unprecedented challenges to global financial markets and the global economy, with significant volatility and movements seen in equities prices and valuations. This applies equally to the Australian financial market and economy.

Force Majeure

- In addition to the pandemic risks, events may occur within or outside Australia that could have an adverse effect on the global economies and carsales' share price. The events include hostilities, acts of terrorism, civil wars, labour strikes, natural disasters or other man-made disasters.

Changes in Tax Rules or their Interpretation

- Changes in tax law, or changes in the way tax laws are interpreted may impact the tax liabilities of carsales, shareholder returns, or the tax treatment of an investment. In particular, both the level and basis of taxation may change. Tax law is frequently being changed, both prospectively and retrospectively. Any actual or alleged failure to comply with, or any change in the application or interpretation of tax rules applied in respect of such transactions, may increase carsales' tax liabilities or expose it to legal, regulatory or other actions.

Australian Online Retail Market	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Investors should be aware that there is no guarantee that the Australian online retail market will continue to grow into the future, or as currently forecast. Growth in the Australian online retail market is expected to be driven partly by the migration of customers from traditional retail formats to online retail platforms. This factor is in part outside the control of online retailers, including carsales, and there is no guarantee that the migration of customers observed in recent years will continue in the future.• If online penetration of the Australian retail market does not increase in line with carsales' expectations, carsales may not be able to acquire new customers or engage existing customers, and its business, financial condition and operating results may suffer.
Trading Patterns	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• carsales' financial performance depends in part on its ability to gauge and react to changing trading patterns in a timely manner. The change to trading patterns is further heightened as a result of COVID-19 as carsales cannot predict changes to customer spending.• If carsales fails to react to changes in trading patterns in a timely manner, this may result in lower revenue and margins and could adversely impact carsales' financial and operational performance.
Market Conditions	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• The price at which carsales' shares are quoted on ASX may increase or decrease due to a number of factors outside carsales' control and which are not explained by the fundamental operations and activities of carsales.• These factors may cause the shares to trade at prices above or below the price at which the shares were initially acquired. There is no assurance that the price of the shares will increase if they are quoted on ASX.
Changes in Australian Accounting Standards	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Australian Accounting Standards are issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB) and are outside of the control of carsales and its directors.• Any changes to the accounting standards or to the interpretation of those standards may have an adverse effect on the reported financial performance and position of carsales.• There is also a risk that interpretations of existing Australian Accounting Standards, including those relating to the measurement and recognition of key income statement and balance sheet items, including revenue and receivables, may differ. Changes to Australian Accounting Standards issued by the AASB or changes to the commonly held views on the application of those standards could materially adversely affect the financial performance and position reported in carsales' consolidated financial statements.
Currency Risks	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Revenue and expenditure in overseas jurisdictions are subject to the risk of fluctuations in foreign exchange markets. carsales carries on a large part of its business outside of Australia. Accordingly, revenues and payments will be made in those countries' currencies and may deviate from budgeted expectations if there are adverse currency fluctuations against the Australian dollar.

ENTITLEMENT OFFER SPECIFIC RISKS

Renouncement

- If an eligible retail shareholder does not take up their entitlements under the Retail Entitlement Offer, then their entitlements will be treated as renounced and there is no guarantee that any value will be received for their renounced entitlement through the relevant bookbuild processes under the Entitlement Offer or (in the case of eligible retail shareholders) that they will be able to receive any value through selling their Entitlements on ASX or otherwise transferring them.
- The ability to sell entitlements under the institutional or retail bookbuild processes under the Entitlement Offer and the ability to obtain any premium will be dependent upon various factors including market conditions. Further, the relevant bookbuild price may not be the highest price available, but will be determined having regard to a number of factors, including having binding and bona fide offers which, in the reasonable opinion of the Underwriters, will, if accepted, result in otherwise acceptable allocations to clear the entire book.
- Similarly, for eligible retail shareholders, there is no guarantee that there will be a liquid market on ASX or otherwise in traded entitlements, and prices obtainable for entitlements may rise and fall over the trading period and will depend on many factors including the demand and supply of entitlements and the value of carsales shares relative to the issue price.
- To the maximum extent permitted by law, none of carsales, the Underwriters, their respective related bodies corporate and affiliates and their respective directors, officers, employees, agents and advisers will be liable (including for negligence) for any failure to procure subscribers under either bookbuild at the price equal to or in excess of the issue price. If there is a premium achieved on the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild, it may be less than, more than, or equal to any premium achieved on the Institutional Shortfall Bookbuild. Accordingly, it is possible that retail holders who do not take up their entitlements will receive less value than their institutional counterparts, or no value at all.

Dilution Risk

- The issue of New Shares under the Entitlement Offer will dilute the interests of ineligible shareholders. Moreover, eligible retail shareholders who do not take up all of their Entitlements under the Retail Entitlement Offer will have their percentage holding in carsales diluted. For eligible retail shareholders who do take up all of their entitlements, their percentage holding in carsales will be diluted unless they apply for shares in addition to their entitlements through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild, and are successful in receiving an allocation equivalent to the full equivalent percentage of their holding in carsales.
- Moreover, in the future carsales may elect to issue further shares or engage in capital raisings to fund its operations, for working capital purposes or to fund other opportunities that carsales may decide to pursue. While carsales will be subject to the constraints of the Corporations Act, shareholders at the time may be diluted as a result of such issuances of securities.

Selling or Transferring of Entitlements

- Eligible Retail Shareholders who do not wish to take up their Entitlements can sell them on ASX or transfer them to another person or entity other than on the ASX during the Entitlement trading period. If an Eligible Retail Shareholder sells or transfers their Entitlements at one stage in the Entitlement trading period, they may receive a higher or lower price than a shareholder who sells or transfers their Entitlements at a different stage of the Entitlement trading period or through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild. There is no guarantee that there will be a viable market during, or on any particular day in, the retail Entitlement trading period, on which to sell retail Entitlements on the ASX. There is no guarantee that there will be a liquid market on ASX or otherwise in traded Entitlements, and prices obtainable for Entitlements may rise and fall over the trading period and will depend on many factors including the demand and supply of Entitlements and the value of carsales' shares relative to the issue price.
- If an Eligible Retail Shareholder chooses to transfer their Entitlements to another person or entity other than on the ASX, there is no guarantee that they will receive any value for transferred Entitlements.

Regulatory Risk

- carsales is required to comply with the laws and regulations relating to the offering of securities in each jurisdiction in which the Entitlement Offer will be available.
- Any material breach of the relevant legal or regulatory obligations or failure to meet compliance requirements in any of the relevant foreign jurisdictions may have an adverse impact on the success of the Entitlement Offer, as well as the financial and operating position of carsales.

Risks Associated with an Investment in Shares

- There are general risks associated with investments in equity capital such as carsales shares. The trading price of carsales shares may fluctuate with movements in equity capital markets in Australia and internationally. This may result in the market price for the new shares issued under the Entitlement Offer being more or less than the Offer Price. Generally applicable factors that may affect the market price of shares include:
 - general movements in Australian and international stock markets;
 - investor sentiment;
 - Australian and international economic conditions and outlook;
 - changes in interest rates and the rate of inflation;
 - changes in government legislation and policies, in particular taxation laws;
 - announcement of new technologies;
 - geopolitical instability, including international hostilities and acts of terrorism;
 - demand for and supply of carsales shares;
 - announcements and results of competitors; and
 - analyst reports.
- No assurance can be given that the New Shares will trade at or above the Offer Price. None of carsales, its directors or any other person guarantees the performance of the New Shares.
- The operational and financial performance and position of carsales and carsales' share price may be adversely affected by a worsening of general economic conditions in Australia, as well as international market conditions and related factors.
- It is also possible that new risks might emerge as a result of Australian or global markets experiencing extreme stress, or existing risks may manifest themselves in ways that are not currently foreseeable. The equity markets have in the past and may in the future be subject to significant volatility.

Other Risks

- The above risks should not be taken as a complete list of the risks associated with an investment in carsales. The risks outlined above and other risks not specifically referred to may in the future materially adversely affect the value of carsales shares and their performance. Accordingly, no assurance or guarantee of future performance or profitability is given by carsales in respect of carsales shares.

- an adverse change occurs in the financial position, operations or prospects of carsales from the position disclosed to the Underwriters or the information publicly available, or the offer documents prior to the date of the Underwriting Agreement;
- any information supplied to the Underwriters prior to the Underwriting Agreement for the purpose of due diligence is, or becomes false, misleading or deceptive or likely to mislead or deceive (including by omission);
- an offer of shares or transaction is announced which may result in a person and their associates acquiring a beneficial interest in, or voting power of, 50% or more of the interests in carsales; or
- there is any adverse, or prospective adverse change or disruption to the financial markets, political or economic conditions of Australia, New Zealand, the United States, the United Kingdom or Hong Kong.

If the Underwriters terminate their obligations under the Underwriting Agreement, the Underwriters will not be obliged to perform any of their obligations that remain to be performed.

Termination of the Underwriting Agreement could have an adverse impact on the amount of proceeds raised under the Entitlement Offer. In these circumstances, carsales would need to utilise alternative funding options to achieve its objectives as described in this Presentation.
