Plan to unlock project value now drilling completed at the Munni Munni Project

Platina Resources Limited's (ASX: PGM) has increased confidence in the value of its part-owned Munni Munni Project in Western Australia after significant grades of palladium were returned in recent drilling by its partner Artemis Resources Limited (ASX:ARV: Artemis).

Platina Managing Director Mr Corey Nolan said drill results reported today in an ASX release by Artemis¹ confirm the project's potential to host one of Australia's largest undeveloped palladium deposits and endowments of platinum, gold and rhodium.

"Amid significant increases in the price of palladium, gold and rhodium during 2021, the positive drill results have enhanced the number of options available to create value from the project," Mr Nolan said.

"A formal joint venture has now also been executed with Artemis and we are now working very constructively to identify how we best extract the most value from the project for our shareholders without losing focus on our respective core assets".

"A sale or spin-off could be considered as the project has reached the development scale where it requires dedicated funding and technical management to drive it forward given the scale of the project footprint" he said.

The Munni Munni Reverse Circulation (RC) drilling program comprised 15 drill holes for 2,740 metres spread through the entire upper portion of the mineralisation, to a maximum depth of 250 metres:

- 9m @ 1.67g/t 2PGE + Au (1.04g/t Pd, 0.54g/t Pt, 0.09g/t Au) from 117m, 21MMRC002;
- 5m @ 2.34g/t 2PGE + Au (1.2g/t Pd, 0.886g/t Pt, 0.25g/t Au) from 108m, 21MMRC003;
- 3m @ 2.61g/t 2PGE + Au (1.23g/t Pd, 1.11g/t Pt, 0.27g/t Au) from 81m, 21MMRC004;
