Adveritas Limited (ASX: AV1) (Adveritas or the Company) is pleased to provide this quarterly activities report for the three months ended 31 June 2021 (Q4 FY21).

Revenue growth

Over Q4 FY21 and post quarter end, Adveritas signed several new customer contracts, including several global enterprises.

The new contracts signed during Q4 FY21 generated annualised revenue of $350k, increasing total annualised revenue to circa $1 million at the end of June. This marks a 60% increase in annualised revenue from Q3 FY21, a key lead indicator of future revenue. Post Q4 FY21, Adveritas' customer base continued to rapidly expand, with an additional $190k in annualised revenue contracted in July 2021.

Rapidly growing Freemium and paying subscribers

Adveritas continues to rapidly grow both Freemium and paying customers, which are also strong leading indicators of future revenue growth.

The Freemium user base provides:

- A large and growing user base with significant cross and upsell potential.
- A rich data set across multiple customer verticals and markets, enhancing the value of TrafficGuard's global, proprietary anti-fraud database.

Through Q4 FY21:

- Freemium subscribers increased by approximately 20% to 2,750

- Freemium Conversion Ratio (i.e. the rate of conversion from Freemium to paying customers) averaged 13%
- New marketing initiatives to be rolled out in Q2 FY22 should see both Freemium sign ups and conversions increase

Google Cloud Platform marketplace significantly increases exposure

Adveritas expects TrafficGuard to be live in the Google Cloud Platform marketplace in Q1 FY22, significantly increasing exposure to all Google Cloud Platform global enterprise clients. Being part of this marketplace was a key priority for the Company as this is in line with other major SaaS companies that have utilised Cloud marketplace benefits.²

Google Cloud Platform provides a marketplace for global enterprises to cover their complete enterprise software needs. TrafficGuard is delighted to have been selected as the only certified ad verification vendor in this marketplace, following an extensive relationship with Google Cloud Platform.

TrafficGuard will have direct exposure to all to Google Cloud Platform customers, with the support of the global Google Cloud Platform sales team.

Adveritas is also proud to announce the successful migration of its infrastructure service to the Google Cloud Platform. An intricate process of planning and engineering allowed a smooth execution. This move better aligns the Company's infrastructure systems with customer needs, economics, scale and Machine Learning requirements. These changes set the business in good stead for further rapid growth while maintaining an industry-leading solution.

Instituting the partnership and close collaboration with Google has enabled Adveritas to engineer systems that allow the management of large volumes of data with an improved economy and flexible scale. The net benefit of this will be an improved cost of sale and higher margins to Adveritas.

Investments in sales and marketing capabilities to underpin further growth

During the first half of the 2021 calendar year (CY21), the Company focused on streamlining its sales process to further compress the sales cycle.

Adveritas has centralised a sales development process in Asia that involves account identification, customer profiling (prospecting), initial outreach and customer onboarding processes. As a result, the business is increasing the number of meetings with prospective clients, and, as a consequence, the number of trials each week.

Importantly, as the business conducts more trials, it is better able to materialise results and case studies, which drives additional trials and conversions.

As Adveritas has put these processes in place, its sales team has been re-shaped with talented sales representatives being attracted and directed by strong sales leadership. Sales representatives that have recently joined the team across Asia and Europe come from strong backgrounds with track records of delivering growth, including firms like Factual, BBC, Bliss and Celtra, which are all marketing tech advertising companies. As TrafficGuard wins more high-profile clients, additional talent will be attracted to the business to fuel further growth.

The recent additions to the sales team have contributed considerably to Q4 FY21's revenue growth and have bolstered the Company's pipeline across key verticals including gaming, retail, on demand transport and many others, which bodes well for the back half of CY21.

Integrated sales and marketing process

Having implemented an end-to-end enterprise sales process, Adveritas is now implementing an integrated sales and marketing process to drive inbound leads to its self sign up portal.

The Company is in the final stages of appointing a Global Chief Marketing Officer who will be responsible for all aspects of profile building, brand awareness, education and lead generation globally.

The enhanced sales and marketing capabilities will underpin Adveritas' global scale-up and is expected to grow the number of enterprise clients, while also rapidly growing Freemium subscribers and paying customers.

Growing proprietary database

TrafficGuard's proprietary big database of global ad fraud is growing rapidly, increasing its appeal to advertising customers and creating potential for new products that will allow us to monetise this big data.

IP reputation scores are now becoming an actionable data point for advertisers globally.

To date, TrafficGuard has profiled over 700 million IPs around the world, of 4.6 billion IP addresses globally under IPv4. TrafficGuard then uses its proprietary technology to essentially score that IP. Each day, TrafficGuard adds close to 1 million new IPs to its reputation dataset. As TrafficGuard grows and adds additional clients and regions, this increases its unique Advertising intelligence on the key data point used for detection and prevention.

As advertising is moving from personal identifier to contextual targeting with new regulations including the removal of IDFA, the location and network attributes, which are derived from IPs are more important than ever.

TrafficGuard's years of clean profiled and organised IP intelligence and data set enables advertisers to filter out fraudulent IPs to enhance returns from their digital advertising campaigns.

This IP intelligence and unique scoring allows for the commercialisation of other products, which the Company will announce to market in the future.

Equity raising post quarter end to accelerate growth

The Company closed the quarter with a cash balance of $3.2 million, and no debt. To accelerate sales and marketing activities based on multiple visible growth opportunities, Adveritas raised $3 million via placement post quarter end to further strengthen its balance sheet. The placement was supported by Pathfinder Asset Management (New Zealand's leading ethical investment fund) and new and existing sophisticated investors. 30 million shares were issued at an issue price of $0.10 per share, which equated to the 7-day VWAP.

The Company also has 55.5 million listed options (AV10) with an exercise price of $0.10 that expire in October 2021 which, if fully exercised, will raise up to $5.5 million of additional capital.

Commentary

Adveritas Co-founder & CEO Mr Ratty said:

“We are delighted to see the number of companies utilising our technology continuing to scale, with several large global market leaders choosing to use our anti-fraud services following trial periods, which will underpin our future revenue growth. Pleasingly, our annualised revenue from enterprise and mid-market clients has scaled tremendously over FY21 and we expect this trend to continue.

“Our pipeline continues to build, with several global companies currently undertaking trials and current customers trialling additional services. Given the positive feedback received, we expect to see our relationships with enterprise clients expand over time to protect their advertising spend. The recent increase in our customer base which spreads across enterprise, mid-level and Freemium conversions, combined with new sales initiatives we have put in place gives me great confidence we will achieve significant growth in the coming quarters.”

Cash receipts

Whilst revenue for Q4 FY21 was 35% higher than that recorded in Q3 FY21, cash receipts in Q4 FY21 were lower than in Q3 FY21 due to there being a number of “catch up” payments being received in Q3 FY21. In addition, many of the new clients that were signed up in Q4 FY21 will commence payment in Q1 FY22.
