

Board renewal at IAG

IAG Chairman, Elizabeth Bryan, has announced major changes to the company's Board.

Ms Bryan will retire from the company at the AGM on 22 October 2021 after six years leading the organisation. She will be succeeded as Chairman by Tom Pockett. Mr Pockett has been a Director of IAG since 2015 and is Chairman of the Audit Committee. He is also Chairman of Stockland Group and Chairman of Autosports Group Limited.

A second Director, Duncan Boyle, will also retire from IAG's Board on 22 October 2021. Mr Boyle has served on the Board for five years, including three years as Chairman of the Risk Committee.

Ms Bryan acknowledged Mr Boyle's contribution to the company by bringing his long experience of the global insurance industry to the Board's deliberations.

Ms Bryan said she is very pleased to also announce that three new Directors will be joining the Board as part of an ongoing process of Board renewal to ensure it has the optimum mix of skills and experience to support the company.

The new Directors bring deep insurance and public company governance experience to their roles, and their skills will supplement those of the existing Directors.

The new members of the Board are David Armstrong and George Sartorel, commencing 1 September 2021, and Scott Pickering, commencing 1 November 2021.

Mr Armstrong will become the new Chairman of the Audit Committee at the conclusion of the 2021 AGM. Mr Armstrong is a well-known and highly respected company director. He is a former partner with PwC specialising in financial services. Mr Armstrong brings deep knowledge of audit and risk control, and experience with Australian public companies.

Mr Sartorel has had a long and distinguished career with Allianz Group and was most recently Regional Chief Executive, Asia Pacific. He has returned home to Australia and brings with him experience in creating and leading large, innovative insurance companies with digital business models.

Mr Pickering has also had a successful international career as a global insurance executive. He has held senior leadership roles with Royal Sun Alliance and with Willis Towers Watson. Mr Pickering has recently retired from the role of CEO of the NZ Accident Compensation Corporation.

These appointments are subject to regulatory approvals.

Ms Bryan said she is delighted to have three such deeply experienced Directors join the IAG Board.

“The IAG Board under Mr Pockett’s chairmanship will be a strong one that will combine a deep understanding of IAG and its Australian and New Zealand business with its new members’ deep insight into the developments taking place in the international general insurance market,” Ms Bryan said.

On her own retirement, Ms Bryan said her completion of six years as Chairman coincided with an age milestone that she had set for retirement.

She said: “IAG is a company I’ve been very honoured to be associated with. Nothing makes me prouder than when I witness the people and capital of IAG mobilising at short notice to help those affected by the many natural disasters we experience in this country and in New Zealand.

“Through its various businesses, IAG has been meeting this need for over 160 years and it is – and will continue to be – a vital part of both Australia’s and New Zealand’s financial and social infrastructure.”

Background information on IAG’s new Chairman and Non-executive Directors:
