Outlook

Timing can be everything but it can also create relative risk and underperformance trying to predict too precisely when an event will unfold. We do not profess to have the ability to call market tops, bottoms or other key macro events. However, we can actively position the Portfolio and its construct to reflect periods in markets where we feel future performance is uncertain. Currently, the odds of future success through a reliance on the continuation of strong market momentum are low and falling. With this in mind, we are selectively increasing the Portfolio's cash exposure, lifting conviction thresholds and lowering risk positions. Combined with an anticipated injection of cash over the coming months as Ryder RYDOA options are exercised, the Portfolio is well positioned for volatility and to take advantage of resulting opportunities.
