Competent Persons Statement

The information in this presentation relating to exploration results is based on information compiled by Mr Jason Murray who is a full time employee of the company. Mr Murray is a member of the Australasian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. Mr Murray has sufficient experience of relevance to the styles of mineralisation and the types of deposits under consideration, and to the activities undertaken, to qualify as a Competent Person as defined in the 2012 Edition of the Joint Ore Reserves Committee (JORC) Australasian Code for Reporting of Exploration Results, Mineral Resources and Ore Reserves. Mr Murray consents to the inclusion in this report of the matters based on information in the form and context in which it appears.

The information in this presentation that relates to Mineral Resources Estimates at the Paris Silver Project is extracted from the release titled “Paris Update Mineral Resource Estimate” dated 28 June 2021 and is available to view on the Company’s website www.investres.com.au. The Company confirms that it is not aware of any new information or data that materially affects the information included in the original market announcement and that all material assumptions and technical parameters underpinning the estimates in the relevant market announcement continue to apply and have not materially changed. The company confirms that the form and context in which the Competent Person’s findings are presented have not been materially modified from the original market announcement.

Silver - Growing use. Diminishing supply.

Silver is both an industrial and a precious metal making it extremely versatile.

A few facts about silver.....

- It is the most conductive metal
- 1oz can be drawn into a wire 1.5km long
- Antibacterial, antiviral and antifungal uses
- Electric vehicles (EV's) use up to 50g
- Use in phones is increasing
- ~800 million ozs mined annually
- Annual demand increasing to 1 billion ozs
- Solar panels and EV's to add 200+ million ozs annually from 2025

The future of green is silver.....
