ASX: DUB
26 November 2021

Correction in FY21 results

A review by Dubber Corporation Limited (ASX: DUB) (Dubber) of its Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows in the FY21 Annual Report has uncovered an error. This review was undertaken following a query raised at the Company's recently held 2021 Annual General Meeting.

It is noted that on page 54 of the FY21 Annual Report the figure for Repayment of loans of $1,908,780 is incorrectly stated by $19 and also without brackets. As a consequence, the figure was read in the positive and added through to the total of Net cash provided by financing activities. The figure should have been stated with brackets and added through as a negative amount.

The corrected amounts are therefore:

- Repayment of loans: ($1,908,799); and
- Net cash provided by financing activities: $43,651,271

The correction has been made to the digital version of the Annual Report at dubber.net.au.

There is no impact on any other part of the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows or Dubber's FY21 Annual Report, including the closing cash position at year end.

This announcement has been approved for release by Steve McGovern, CEO, Dubber.
