and inflationary pressures. We are carefully managing our marketing investment to deliver results in the second half in-line with our internal plan and 2022 guidance. Achieving our growth goals while carefully managing costs underscores the reliability of our business model.

As the business continues to grow healthily, we were also able to expand margins by 160 basis points quarter-over-quarter in an inflationary environment, driven by operational improvements in the US and our ability to pass on cost inflation through the pricing power our brands enjoy.

A review is being conducted of the European business and initiatives are underway to improve the performance and turn the business to profitability. As part of this turnaround plan, the Company has made some leadership changes, including hiring, among others, a new Head of European Production to strengthen the European operations leadership team. In addition, Ebony Morczinek has stepped down as CEO of the EU region, which will now be led by myself directly until further notice.

The increased scale and improved margin led to a sequential improvement of Operating EBITDA both quarter-over-quarter as well as year-over-year, reducing our Q3 2022 Operating EBITDA loss to €(1.0)m.”

Q3 BUSINESS UPDATE

Q3 2022 net revenue grew 26.3% vs. the PCP to €100m. This growth was driven by the United States (+37.2%) and Australia (+24.4%). Europe was slightly down at (2.6%) vs. the PCP driven by reduced order frequency in a market environment of lower consumer confidence.

During the quarter Marley Spoon continued to execute its three-pillar growth strategy, namely investment in growing active subscribers, initiatives to grow basket size and benefiting from inorganic growth through the Chefgood acquisition which complements the Company’s meal kit business.

Active subscribers grew 4% YoY in the quarter to 275k. Continued favourable unit economics and a focus on reactivating customers helped deliver the increase in active subscribers.

Basket size, which grew 28% (14% in constant currency), benefited from a number of revenue-enhancing activities, namely newly launched premium recipes that provide special ingredients or recipes at an additional charge as well as our Market initiative that offers up to 200 additional grocery items to our customers. Our market-leading recipe choice also contributed to the increased basket size by leading to a higher average amount of meals per order compared to the PCP.

Contribution Margin in Q3 2022 was 28.8%, an expansion of 70 bps versus the PCP. Operating Contribution (Operating CM), defined as CM excluding the impacts of marketing vouchers and fixed costs such as expenses relating to site leases, was down 110 bps to 37.0% compared to the PCP. The contribution margin performance was driven by strong operational improvements and resulting margin gains in the US segment and by overall lower marketing voucher spend compared to the prior year. The Australian margin, while improving quarter-on-quarter, continued to be impacted by the ongoing external food supply chain issues, particularly substitutions due to lack of availability or poor quality. Those headwinds however eased throughout the quarter. European margin performance was poor, impacted by energy, logistics and food cost inflation as well as last mile costs driven by labour shortages.

Productivity initiatives, successfully deployed already in the US, are being implemented to improve margin and turn the Europe business to profitability.

The Company's planned sequential reduction in marketing spend throughout the year led to marketing expense as a percent of net revenue of 14.6% in Q3 2022. This, and the Contribution Margin expansion vs. Q2 2022, led to an Operating EBITDA result that was significantly improved versus the prior year and also sequentially vs. the prior quarter, landing at €(1.0)m, excluding one-time charges from severance payments and a historical sales tax correction in the US.

SEGMENT REVIEW

United States

- Q3 2022 net revenue was up 37.2% YoY to €48m, +16.4% in constant currency
- Strong margin expansion in both CM, at 28.5%, up 5.3 pts vs. the PCP, and Operating CM at 36.3%, up 2.3 pts vs. the PCP
- The US operated profitably in the quarter, delivering Operating EBITDA of €3.0m

Net revenue grew 37.2% (+16.4% on a constant currency basis) driven by the growth of the Company's subscriber base as well as growth in order value coming from an increase in portion sizes, additional menu offerings as well as pricing taken to offset inflation.

The successful implementation of last year's turnaround plan yielding operational improvements such as increased picking line productivity and enhancements in service reliability, combined with lower marketing voucher spend in this year's quarter, led to strong contribution margin expansion of 5.3 pts year-over-year to 28.5%, despite across-the-board input cost inflation. Equally, Operating CM expanded 2.3 pts to 36.3%, helping lead to another profitable quarter for the region, with delivery of €3.0m in Operating EBITDA, an improvement of €8.5m YoY.

Australia

- Q3 2022 net revenue up 24.4% YoY to €41m, +14.0% in constant currency
- Q3 2022 CM at 32.2%, down 2.0 pts vs. the PCP, while Operating CM reached 40.3%, down 3.2 pts vs. the PCP
- Operating EBITDA of €3.6m in Q3 2022

Australia experienced a decent quarter despite significant supply chain challenges. Net revenue grew 24.4% YoY in Q3 2022 driven by growth in active subscribers, additional menu offerings, as well as the further consolidation of the Company's newly acquired Chefgood business. A second price increase was also taken in August to counter inflationary headwinds.

Given the ongoing supply chain challenges stemming from severe weather events and overall input cost inflation, contribution margin contracted versus the PCP in Australia, with CM and Operating CM landing at 32.2% and 40.3%, respectively. Substitutions of ingredients that were either unavailable or of poor quality and inflation continued to be the primary drivers of margin pressure, though those pressures eased throughout the quarter.

Despite the headwinds, quarter-on-quarter improvements in margin performance and the ongoing focus on cost discipline led to another profitable quarter, with Operating EBITDA coming in at €3.6m for the quarter, an improvement of €4.7m YoY.

Europe

- Q3 2022 net revenue down by (2.6%) versus the PCP to €11m
- Q3 2022 CM at 17.1%, down ~9 pts compared to the PCP and Operating CM at 28.3%, down 6.0 pts compared to the PCP
- Operating EBITDA loss of €(2.2)m in Q3 2022 excluding headquarter costs

Operations in Europe continued to be challenged by reduced consumer confidence and overall inflationary pressure across all input costs. While active subscribers grew 2% YoY, net revenue slightly declined vs. the PCP driven by lower order frequency. Contribution Margin was impacted by food and fuel inflation leading to material YoY declines. Despite the worsening margin, Operating EBITDA landed at a loss of €(2.2)m excluding headquarter costs, flat year-on-year.

The Company is now focused on reviewing the European business and implementing initiatives to improve the performance and return the region to growth as well as expanding margin and reducing costs to bring the business to profitability. As part of this turnaround plan, the Company has made changes in its European operations' leadership team. In addition, Ebony Morczinek has stepped down as CEO of the EU region, which will now be led by Global CEO Fabian Siegel until further notice.

During the quarter, the Company actively pursued the conversion from an AG to an SE, which is now expected to be completed in Q4.

KEY OPERATING METRICS*

Q3 2022 active subscribers grew 4% compared to the PCP to 275k. This was driven by all regions.

While orders per subscriber were down by 5%, average order value was up 28%, reflecting the Company's focus on basket size-generating activities, including its pricing initiatives, Market add-ons and increased recipe choice.

CASH FLOW

Marley Spoon ended Q3 2022 with nearly €22m in cash, owing partly to the timing of payments. Cash from Operations was €3.0m at the end of the quarter, tracking better than Operating EBITDA driven by the negative working capital effects of our business model and currency translation.

Cash flow from investing activities landed at €(2.7)m, driven primarily by the Company's continued investment in product development and digital capabilities. The Company also invested ~€900k in PP&E in the US (leasehold improvements and spare parts) and in its Chefgood facility.

Finally, cash from financing activities was €(3.9)m for the quarter, with IFRS lease payments and interest obligations partially offset by financing obtained for the premiums associated with the renewal of the Company's global insurance policies. The interest paid on the Company's debt facilities increased by ~€0.8m quarter-over-quarter on account of the exposure to LIBOR. In addition, net debt has also increased as compared to Q2 2022 to €63.5m due in part to the fact that the Company's largest debt facility is denominated in USD.

Subsequent to the Q3 2022 close, earlier this month the Company paid €1.6m to the former Chefgood owners as part of its earnout payment obligations following the completion of the acquisition of the ready-to-heat business in January 2022.

For the third quarter, cash payments to related parties of the entity were €301 thousand in aggregate. These payments were personnel compensation for key executive management, including the Management Board and the Supervisory Board.

2022 OUTLOOK AND GUIDANCE RE-AFFIRMED

Having delivered another quarter in-line with the Company's expectations, Marley Spoon reaffirms its full year guidance. Marley Spoon CFO, Jennifer Bernstein, commented, "since we issued FY 2022 guidance at the beginning of the year, we have consistently delivered what we set out to achieve, even as macroeconomic conditions worsened far more than anticipated. After hitting our internal targets for three consecutive quarters, we reaffirm our full year guidance, which includes delivering a Q4 2022 with positive Operating EBITDA in the range of €2-4m."

Guidance is affirmed:

- Mid-to-high teens YoY net revenue organic growth plus full year contribution from Chefgood
- Contribution Margin in-line with 2021
- Operating EBITDA better than €(15)m
