Operations update

Tinybeans Free and Tinybeans + to drive subscriber growth

Launching Tinybeans Free and Tinybeans + in April 23 has provided a scalable platform for growth, to drive new downloads of the Tinybeans App and increase its marketable user base and conversion to paid subscribers. Since the launch in April 23, the user base has increased by 26k users and paid subscribers have increased by 6.3% in Q4 FY23 to 56,145, compared to 52,831 in Q3 FY23.

Post the app subscription price increase in April 23, a low churn rate has been experienced and the conversion rate from impression to download has also increased.

The Tinybeans' website audience increased 15.3% in Q4 FY23 to 6.0M, compared to 5.2M in Q3 FY23, and represents a year-on-year increase of 25.2% compared to Q4 FY22. A key part of the strategy review will include the potential monetisation of this currently largely un-monetised audience.

Tinybeans Android App to launch

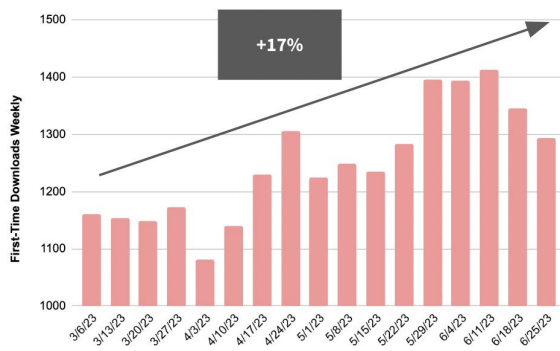

Over the past month, the business has been testing its long-awaited new Android App with a select group of Android users. The feedback has been very positive and Tinybeans Free and Tinybeans + is expected to launch to Android users mid-August 2023.

Due to historical and ongoing issues with the previous Tinybeans Android App, at present Android users represent only approx. 10% of the Tinybeans subscribers and with up to 50% of all smart phone users in the US being Android customers, this now represents a big opportunity to increase its subscription base.

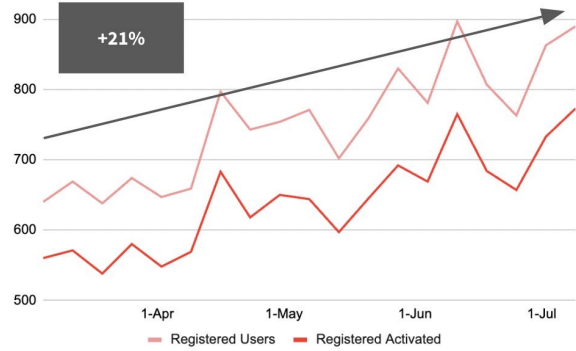

For iOS users total first time downloads increased 5.6% in Q4 FY23 to 23,141, compared to 21,908 in Q3 FY23.

Financial update

Revenue

Q4 FY23 total revenue of US$1.7M was down approximately 35% on pcp and was driven by advertising revenues decreasing by 50% compared to pcp, to US$1.0M and was driven largely by economic headwinds in the US. A new sales team and sales strategy has been implemented into the business in Q4 FY23, which will leverage the 2.1m engaged users on its email database to increase sales. The emails currently have an open rate of between 25-40% across the relevant newsletters.

Paid subscription revenue increased 22% in Q4 FY23 to US$0.71M from US$0.54M in Q4 FY22 as a result of an increase in paid users since the launch of Tinybeans + and the new pricing implemented in May 2023. The new pricing for App subscriptions increased from US$4.99 to US$7.99 per month or US$39.99 to US$74.99 per annum, which has resulted in an increase of 18% in Monthly Recurring Revenue (MRR) from US$172k at the end of Q3 FY23 to US$203k by the end of Q4 FY23.

A large renewal event will occur in Q2 FY24 with approximately 50% of its annual subscribers rolling onto new increased pricing and with renewal rates at approximately 90% for the monthly subscribers, revenue will be boosted in Q2 FY24, noting that renewal rates for annual subscribers may not be as high as monthly subscribers but historically it has been strong.

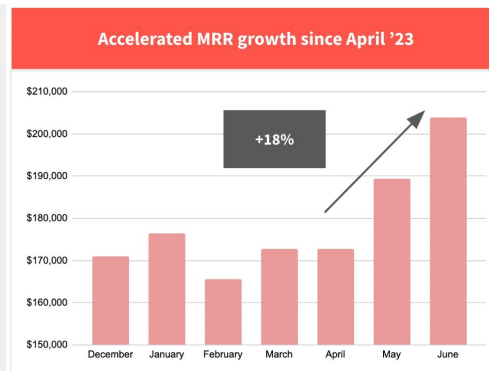

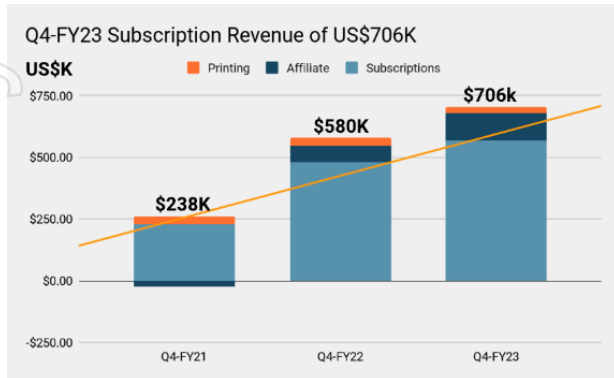

Marketing of the Tinybeans App and Tinybeans website remained low in Q4 FY23, with the new CEO reviewing the marketing and brand strategy prior to upweighted investment. Targeted marketing will however increase after the launch of the Android App to grow its users with this customer base.

Q4-FY23 Revenue of US$1.76M

Q4-FY23 Ad Sales Revenue of US$1.06M

Cashflow

Tinybeans' available cash balance at 30 June 2023 was US$1.54M. In early July 23, US$302k of June 23 receivables were received which would've increased the cash balance to US$1.842M. The operating cash balance on 24 July 2023 was US$1.934M (excluding Equity Raise proceeds).

From the Equity Raising, the gross proceeds of the Placement and institutional component of the Entitlement Offer settled on Tuesday, 4 July 2023, raising approximately A$2.5 million before transaction costs (equivalent to approximately US$1.7 million²). The retail component of the Entitlement Offer is expected to settle on Monday, 31 July 2023, raising a further A$0.9 million (equivalent to approximately US$0.6 million²) before transaction costs.

Post the change of management and the successful completion of the Equity Raising, Tinybeans resumed investment in technology and new product development in Q4 FY23 to improve the performance and functionality of the Tinybeans App and Website to grow subscriptions, ensure renewals remain high, stabilise and grow advertising revenue. A disciplined approach to cashflow will continue whilst the business deploys resources in a strategic manner.
