Message from the CEO

Welcome to a new era for Jaxsta.

We've arrived at an exciting time for the business following the completion of the Vampr acquisition and the launch of Vinyl.com. As such, the Board and I have carefully focused the company's resources and efforts on key identified initiatives that will drive customer growth, and importantly, revenue growth and profitability.

The company has an overarching initiative to integrate and optimise the three platforms: Jaxsta, Vampr, and our new consumer platform Vinyl.com. As we continue to grow what is already a highly engaged community where creators have tools to help them thrive and the connections to collaborate, shareholders can expect to see our products evolve into streamlined combined user experiences as we start to realise the full value of our community and scale across all of our products. The combined platform will offer a highly unique global music experience for our customers, uniting creators and fans in a dynamic marketplace of connection and exchange with a class-leading music discovery and music product buying experience.

We are well on our way to delivering on this mission, however we have plenty of work to do in order to integrate the three platforms so that the company can operate at its full potential. We have recently implemented an initial set of changes to make the operations of Jaxsta far more nimble and responsive to required iteration in order to provide the business with stronger and faster commercial outcomes.

Meanwhile, the world's largest music market, North America, remains at the forefront of our geographic focus and the combination of our services will allow us to grow the business in this region far more effectively. Over the next six months, we will be regularly releasing updates to the products with this objective in mind. As both the CEO and one of the largest shareholders, I am fully committed to the growth and success of the business.

Lastly, Jaxsta recognises the importance of AI to the music industry and our product and development team is currently researching how to incorporate the technology utilising our extensive proprietary music industry data, our unique advantage over competitors. The goal is to use AI to generate personalised e-commerce and social recommendations, enriching customer interactions. Additionally, AI will be harnessed to increase internal operational efficiencies, reducing costs and optimising productivity on our road to profitability.

I look forward to sharing more about Jaxsta in our next update.

- 134% increase in QoQ cash receipts, which includes one month of Vampr receipts since close of acquisition on 1 June.
- Receipts from customers grew to an all time high of $136K this quarter, more than the entire revenues of FY2022, representing a YoY increase of 210% this quarter compared to the same quarter a year ago.
- The Company completed the acquisition of Vampr to further enhance its revenue, addressable market and creator portfolio.
- The Company completed a $3M capital raise with participation from new key investor Richard White.
- Vinyl.com came out of beta and launched with a full realised catalogue that added 50,000 titles to the platform.

- Appointed Vampr CEO Josh Simons as the new Jaxsta CEO.

Summary of cash position and expenditure

Summary of cash position and expenditure:

- As at 30 June 2023, Jaxsta had $2.966 million in cash and cash equivalents. The company had an operating net cash burn of $1.006 million, which was a 69% increase on the previous quarter's $593 thousand operating net cash burn. This was largely due to one time expenses related to redundancies ($165K), acquisition costs from Vampr ($60K), adding the Vampr costs to the operation for the month of June ($60K), timing differences ($97K), offset by increased customer receipts ($78K). Further redundancy and Vampr transition costs will affect Q1 before fully normalising the recurring cash expenditure.
- When looking at the Company's cash expenditure for the quarter and comparing it to the quarter ending 31 March 2023:
 - There was an increase in staff costs of $260K from redundancies and new Vampr staff;
 - There was an increase in data and platform operating costs of $106K from data partner renewals and the addition of Vampr operations;
 - There was a $31K increase in research and development costs from the work on our Vinyl.com and Vampr platforms;
 - There was an increase of $48K in Sales and Marketing costs from the increased campaign for Vinyl.com and Vampr;
 - There was an increase of $20K in general and administrative costs from Vampr transaction costs incurred in the current quarter.
- During the quarter, the business funded its operating activities from its working capital reserves.

Payments to related parties and their associates:

The Company had no payment to its related parties comprising salaries, directors fees, reimbursable expense payment to directors including executives who were directors during the past six months. No payments were made to associates of any related parties.

Market Opportunity & Key Metrics

Our FY2024 key metric is revenue, as we look to:

- Ramp up our Vinyl.com capabilities and sales in key markets
- Continue the build of Vampr Pro and advertising sales
- Grow Jaxsta Business and Enterprise subscriptions

The vinyl market continues its growth, increasing by 22% in the US in the first half of 2023.¹ Vinyl sales have also increased worldwide by 25% YoY.² Our focus will be to deliver quarter over quarter sales growth to establish the brand as the market leader in this space.

The music creator tools market was worth $4.1 billion in 2022, across all segments, with distribution being one of the top two segments.³ Jaxsta's services to creators has now greatly expanded with the Vampr acquisition.
