Strong net inflows: Transition from transaction savings to long-term savings

Raiz customers are changing the way that they engage with the platform, as they transition from a transaction-based savings approach to a longer-term wealth creation focus.

Over the past year, Raiz’s strategy has been focused on enhanced customer engagement and improving customer retention rates through new product development and to increase the life-time value of customers as they use different Raiz products throughout their wealth journey. This momentum is evidenced by Raiz generating netflows of $183m during CY24 which is a significant increase on the prior year’s $57m.

Product innovation: Raiz Rewards tracking well and launch of Raiz Jars

With the successful launch of automated Raiz Rewards to our rewards platform in July 2024, one of the first in Australia, we have seen an increase in overall rewards activity over the period. Raiz invested nearly $500k cash back rewards on behalf of customers in Q2 FY25, which is a 28% increase YOY, demonstrating that customers are engaging with this new feature.

Raiz Jars was launched early January 2025. This product feature gives customers added control and the ability to manage numerous investment goals within one account. With over 5,350 active Jar portfolios created since release, we are pleased to see early evidence of strong customer engagement which will in turn deliver improved retention rates.

We continue to work with State Street Global Advisors and have progressed the build out of our Knowledge Hub and future portfolio opportunities, including developing a retirement phase offering within Raiz Invest Super.
