Volume growth continues $\uparrow 4\%$ YoY, $\downarrow 8\%$ HoH

Delivering $\uparrow 4\%$ receivables growth YoY

⁽¹⁾ Repayment rates are expressed on an annualised basis in constant currency, excluding Credit Cards and BNPL.

Sustaining attractive RAI margins

Margin optimisation in response to evolving macro conditions

Key YoY drivers

- RAI remains strong at 8.0%, down marginally 20bps YoY despite changing macro conditions.
- Funding cost improvements more than offset revenue yield compression, with CoF improving 55bps while revenue yield declined 35bps.
- Credit performance remained within expectations despite evolving macro conditions, up 41bps YoY.
- Portfolio growth is translating into earnings growth, with receivables growth delivering $16m of incremental Risk Adjusted Income YoY.
- Underlying economics remain resilient, operating income yield is 12.2%, up 20bps YoY, despite the changing yield mix.

Diversified funding platform supporting growth and margin expansion

- 5 transactions completed in 1H26 totaling $2.3bn:
 - Public Australian credit card transaction $0.5bn
 - Private credit facilities $1.8bn
- $6.6bn drawn with $1.2bn headroom.
- Active IRRM with 39% of receivables hedged.
- Improved pricing and advance rates/flexibility driving reduced spreads supporting CoF reduction despite rising cash rates.
- Issued Capital Notes 2 ~$135m improving balance sheet structure and supporting future growth.
- ~$30m of unsecured corporate debt at HoldCo vs. >$550m in seller notes.

Outlook

Bob Belan – Managing Director & CEO

Outlook

Positioned to navigate a more challenging environment

Macroeconomic conditions are likely to continue to place pressure on household budgets through the second half. While discretionary spending and lending demand may moderate, Latitude expects to continue to deliver profitable receivables growth, supported by our diversified business model, differentiated products and broad partner and distribution network.

Earnings resilience through disciplined pricing and portfolio management

Elevated central bank rates and continued pressure on household budgets are expected to remain key features through the second half. Latitude expects a combination of pricing, credit and portfolio management actions to maintain strong risk-adjusted returns to support earnings growth.

Continued operating leverage through productivity and technology

Latitude expects sustained productivity and operating leverage improvements through diligent expense management and investment in technology and artificial intelligence. Together, these initiatives will help offset inflationary pressures, improve customer and partner experiences and create additional capacity to support future growth initiatives.

Stronger fundamentals supporting long-term shareholder value generation

Continued strong profit performance, combined with disciplined balance sheet management, is expected to provide the capacity to continue to invest in our strategic priorities while maintaining the flexibility to prudently return capital to shareholders.

Funding: cash rate scenario sensitivity

25bps change = $10m change in interest expense (pre-tax)¹

Management actions available to mitigate impact to profit.

Sensitivity Summary and Outlook

- 25bps rates = ~$10m interest expense (pre-tax). AU = ~$8m / NZ = ~$2m
- RBA currently on pause while RBNZ has commenced tightening cycle with further rate increases probable in 2026
- Cash rates expected to reflect economic activity and inflation outcomes
- Lift in interest rate hedging in 2025 and early 2026 likely to continue to support interest expense
- This analysis shows the impact of shifts in interest rates on the Group's profit over a year assuming all other things remain equal at the end of the reporting period
- The above impacts excludes any management action that can mitigate impact of increased interest expense

Australia lifted cash rates 3 times in 1H26 and currently on hold as New Zealand has commenced tightening cycle
