Sector leading free cash flow per share

Highest FCF per share of any dividend paying ASX gold producer (FY26)

1. Free cash flow is calculated using operating cash flow less capital expenditure. FDSO is calculated using fully paid ordinary shares on issue per each company's latest ASX disclosure plus all performance rights, share rights, retention rights, options and warrants on issue, on a full-dilution basis (no treasury-stock adjustment and no assumed exercise proceeds; options/warrants included where in the money). These are estimates based on financial information reported by the relevant companies.
