Management Comment

Gateway's Managing Director, Mr Richard Pugh, said: "Over recent months, our ability to execute drilling programs has been impacted by contractor availability and delays that were largely outside of the Company's control. Pleasingly, those challenges are now behind us and Gateway has successfully ramped up exploration activities across the Yandal Project.

Following the commencement of our first diamond rig earlier this month, a second diamond rig has now arrived on site and commenced drilling activities. In addition, we have secured a third diamond rig which is scheduled to arrive on Monday.

This expanded drilling fleet will significantly increase our ability to rapidly test priority targets at both Cowza and Horse Well, while also accelerating resource growth opportunities and advancing our understanding of the broader mineralised system.

With two RC rigs, multiple diamond rigs and an aircore rig now operating across the project, Gateway is entering one of the most active exploration periods in the Company's history.

Importantly, with the planned increasing flow of drilling results, we look forward to keeping investors informed regularly and throughout calendar 2027."
